Freedom and Justice Delayed but not Denied

AHLP Books, an imprint of Africana Homestead Legacy Publishers, introduces to the literary world The System Versus the Law, Saturday, April 18 and Sunday, April 19, 2009

(Cherry Hill, NJ) (April 2, 2009) – After serving nine years of a 20-year sentence for a crime he did not commit, Kenneth Brown, through determination and persistence, proved to his community and the world that the system which is subject to the law can be reversed. The System Versus the Law is a riveting tale of one man's fight to not only regain his freedom but find his identity in the process. Having grown up in the projects, falling prey to drug addiction, war, and one failed relationship after another, Brown takes us on a life journey that ultimately leads to physical freedom from legal injustice, spiritual self-awareness, and emotional completeness. On Saturday, April 18 and Sunday, April 19, Brown will appear in person during the Free Library Festival at Parkway Central Library in Philadelphia, Pa. The System Versus the Law is Brown's memoir based on a journal that he kept and a series of his published articles that offers insight into the lessons of life and the fulfillment of knowing one's creator and oneself.

Kenneth Brown is the divorced father of three grown daughters. Born in New York City, he now lives in a suburb of Atlanta, Ga. When he was a Christian, he became aware of and interested in where his “institutional” faith had gone awry. This awareness and interest led him to the conclusion that Christianity had been hijacked. As a result, he became a student of Yoga. He has been deeply influenced by people such as, Carl Brown, Thurgood Marshall, Malcolm X, Bill Cosby, Bill Clinton, and Gurumayi Chidillasananda. Brown's articles include “Black History,” “Fathers,” “Message to My People,” “Religion,” “My Vietnam,” “Emotional Awareness,” and “Corrected Vision.” The System Versus the Law is his first book.

Don't miss this opportunity to meet Kenneth Brown in person and experience his memorable insight into the unseemly canvas of lawyers, judges, and appeals as well as the lacerated prison climate itself. Hear his firsthand account of how he managed with grace, dignity, and intelligence to hold onto his innocence. His book signings will be at the Free Library Festival in the Africana Homestead Legacy Publishers' exhibit booth #10 on both Saturday, April 18 from 12-1 p.m. and 4-5 p.m. and Sunday, April 19 from 12-1 p.m. and 2-4 p.m.
